CONTENTS

List of figures x
List of tables xi
Notes on contributors xii
Acknowledgments xix
Abbreviations xxi

Meanings and motivation in education research 1
Margaret M. Baguley, Martin C. Kerby and Yvonne S. Findlay

PART I
Personal and professional identity 13

1 Introduction: personal and professional identity 15
Margaret M. Baguley

2 The Table Where Rich People Sit: a turn toward narrative inquiry as method, phenomenon and pedagogy 17
Lee Schaefer, Sean Lessard, Saffron Panko and Nate Polsfut

3 Trouble(d) at the border: teacher educators as researchers – a perspective from England 34
Viv Wilson

4 Authoring a life: writing ourselves in/out of our work in education 50
Alison L. Black

PART II
Conducting education research 73

5 Introduction: conducting education research 75
Martin C. Kerby

6 Research, reflect and rethink: a journey in education research 77
Julia Myers

7 Sociocultural insights into conducting qualitative educational research in Malaysia 91
Fariza Puteh-Behak, Farah Natchiar Mohd Khaja and Ramiza Darmi

8 The emerging use of mixed methods in educational research 103
Roslyn Cameron

9 Research and professional practice in Scottish education 116
Christine Forde

PART III
Imposed imperatives 133

10 Introduction: imposed imperatives 135
Yvonne S. Findlay

11 'This email thing won't take off': a critique of the Australian government's digital education revolution (DER) funding on a secondary school 137
Martin C. Kerby, David Johnston, Michael Scott and Sean O'Brien

12 Methodological mistakes: a reflexive examination of researcher gender privilege 148
Jennifer C. Ingrey

13 Spoilt for choice: factors influencing postgraduate students' decision making 163
Margaret M. Baguley, Anne Jasman, Peter McIlveen, Henriette van Rensburg and Rahul Ganguly

14 The business of schools: the application of strategic management theories to risk taking in decision making in public schools 179
Karen Trimmer

Respondent's text: stepping off the pedestal 192
Fred Dervin, University of Helsinki

Index 197