

CONTENTS

| | |
|--|-----|
| Preface | ix |
| Acknowledgments | xi |
| | |
| Introduction | 1 |
| 1 Twelve Concepts: Roots that Ground and Grow with the Heart of Counseling | 6 |
| 2 The Rich and Subtle Skills of Therapeutic Listening | 23 |
| 3 Striving for Empathy | 48 |
| 4 Expressing Empathy | 69 |
| 5 Striving For and Communicating Unconditional Positive Regard | 89 |
| 6 The Delicate Balance of Providing Empathy and UPR in a Genuine Manner | 116 |
| 7 Beginning with New Clients and Questions of Client Conceptualization | 139 |
| 8 Structuring Therapeutic Relationships | 164 |
| 9 When Clients Need Help Getting Started | 183 |
| 10 Managing Client Crises with Therapeutic Relationship Skills | 199 |
| 11 Ending Therapeutic Relationships | 236 |
| 12 Therapeutic Relationships Across Cultures | 264 |

| | | |
|----|--|-----|
| 13 | Connecting Heart to Hand: Doing More, Going Beyond, Staying True | 280 |
| 14 | Heart and Mind: Major Counseling Theories and Therapeutic Relationships | 301 |
| 15 | Bringing Heart to All You Do | 316 |
| | Concluding Thoughts: Growing Your Therapeutic Relationship Skills to Become Who You Are | 341 |
| | Index | 345 |