

Contents

Contributors

Foreword

Anne Boykin

Prologue

Rozzano C. Locsin and Marguerite J. Purnell

Acknowledgments

Section 1: Philosophical, Theoretical, and Historical Perspectives of Knowing

- Chapter 1. Phoenix Arising: Synoptic Knowing for a Synoptic Practice of Nursing 1
Marguerite J. Purnell
- Chapter 2 Transcending Boundaries: Nursing—A Synoptic Discipline? 17
Savina O. Schoenhofer
- Chapter 3 “With the Very Best of Intentions”: The Development of Nursing Process as a Way of Knowing 31
Lynne M. Dunphy
- Chapter 4 Inspired Knowing in Nursing: Walking on Moonbeams 61
Pamela G. Reed
- Chapter 5 Consciousness and Knowing: The Patterning of the Whole 73
W. Richard Cowling III and Elizabeth Repede

Chapter 6	Evidence, Knowledge, and Wisdom: Nursing Practice in a Universe of Complexity and Mystery	99
	Gail J. Mitchell
Chapter 7	Knowing Persons as Whole: Bearing Witness to Unfolding Mystery	123
	William K. Cody
Chapter 8	Holistic Knowing	135
	Marlaine C. Smith
Chapter 9	Unknowing: Towards the Understanding of Multiple Realities and Manifold Perceptions	153
	Patricia L. Munhall

Section II: Processes of Knowing in Nursing: Practice Perspectives

Chapter 10	Knowing Patients' Bodies: Nurses' Bodywork	175
	Zane Robinson Wolf
Chapter 11	Journeying with Linda: A Narrative Approach to Practice and Research	205
	Christopher Johns
Chapter 12	Caring for "Not-So-Picture-Perfect Patients": Ethical Caring in the Moral Community of Nursing	225
	Marian C. Turkel and Marilyn A. Ray
Chapter 13	Decision Making and Knowing in Nursing: The Essentiality of Meaning	251
	Susan K. Chase
Chapter 14	An Exquisite Knowing of Children	281
	Bernie Carter, Marie Marshall, and Caroline Sanders

Chapter 15	Knowing Persons With Disabilities: Nurses Illuminate Difference in a Natural Light	305
	Donna Carol Maheady

Chapter 16	Clinical Knowing in Advanced Practice Nursing	329
	Ruth McCaffrey

Section III: Influences of Technology on Knowing in Nursing

Chapter 17	Vision, Technology, and the Environment of Care	357
	Alan Barnard

Chapter 18	“Painting a Clear Picture”: Technological Knowing as a Contemporary Process of Nursing	377
	Rozzano C. Locsin

Chapter 19	Knowing the Person and Technology as Medium	395
	Marilyn Macdonald

Chapter 20	Rapture and Suffering With Technology in Nursing	415
	Rozzano C. Locsin and Marguerite J. Purnell

Section IV: Knowing the Person Through Lenses of Culture and Community

Chapter 21	Coming to Know Community: Going to the Mountain	429
	Charlotte D. Barry and Shirley C. Gordon

Chapter 22	Knowing the Patient and Being a Good Nurse	445
	Samantha M. C. Pang, Michiko Yahiro, and Helen Y. L. Chan

Table of Contents

Chapter 23	Continuous Knowing of Patients: The Japanese Nursing Perspective	463
	Yukie Takemura and Katsuya Kanda
Chapter 24	Influence of Culture on Knowing Persons	481
	Carolina Huerta and M. Sandra Sanchez
Epilogue:	Moving Forward in a Contemporary Practice of Nursing	505
	Marguerite J. Purnell and Rozzano C. Locsin
Index	509