

CONTENTS

Notes on the contributors	vii
From the editors	x
1 How the brain creates art and dreams Hans-Otto Thomashoff	1
2 Norm(s) and the function of outsider art Ekaterina Sukhanova	11
3 Body and identity: objects of redemption in today's unrest Angélique Christaki	17
4 Contemporary body: medicine to modern art Rémy Potier	22
5 Physical disability in the collective imagination William Ebenstein	30
6 The disabled body in contemporary society Simone Korff Sausse	40
7 Body image and identity in victims of extreme violence Régine Waintrater	49

vi Contents

8	The body and AIDS transformed into a work of art by Hervé Guibert Anne Brun	55
9	The ‘composite body’ in contemporary art Catherine Desprats Péquignot	65
10	The multiple bodies of Michael Jackson: a paradigm for understanding postmodern society? Silke Schauder	73
11	From catharsis to the cathartic: towards a post-dramatic theory of representation Renata Mattos-Avril and Jean-Michel Vives	86
12	Modified images of the body: new forms of identity with a note on the cadavers of Gunther Von Hagens Céline Masson	95
13	Of beauty and ‘beauties’: female identities and body image in Colombia Alcira Forero-Peña	104
14	Tattoos/hysteria Jeanne Wolff Bernstein	115
15	Body in art and art therapy: humorous presentations Alexander Kopytin	122
	Index	137