

---

Contents

|  |           |
|--|-----------|
| Part I Congenital Heart Disease and Humanization of Healthcare  |           |
| 1 Congenital Heart Disease: A Medical Overview . . . . .  | 3  |
| Massimo Chessa and Francesca Romana Plucchinotta   |           |
| 2 The Humanization of Healthcare Treatmentsand Critical Choices . . . . .                                    | 21 |
| Francesco Campione   |           |
| Part II Psychological Aspects and NeuropsychologicalFunctioning in Children and Adolescents with ConHD       |           |
| 3 Psychological Aspects in Children and Adolescentswith Congenital Heart Disease and Their Parents . . . . . | 35 |
| Elisabeth M. Utens and Eveline Levert  |           |
| 4 Adjusting to Congenital Heart Disease in Adolescence:The Role of Patients' Personality and Self . . . . .  | 53 |
| Jessica Rassart, Koen Luyckx, and Philip Moons   |           |
| 5 Neuropsychological Aspects in Children and Adolescentswith ConHD . . . . .                                 | 69 |
| Marijke Miatton  |           |
| Part III Psychological Functioning, Quality of Life and Endof Life Care in Adults with ConHD                 |           |
| 6 Psychological Functioning and Life Experiences in Adultswith Congenital Heart Disease . . . . .            | 85 |
| Edward Callus, Emilia Quadri, Cristiana Passerini, and Anna Tovo   |           |
| 7 Quality of Life in Adults with Congenital Heart Disease . . . . .   | 99 |
| Silke Apers, Koen Luyckx, and Philip Moons   |           |

---

|   |   |     |
|---|---|-----|
| 8  | End-of-Life Care and Treatment Preferences Among Adults with Congenital Heart Disease . . . . .  | 119 |
|   | Meaghan K. Ferguson and Adrienne H. Kovacs  |     |
| Part IV Psychological and Peer to Peer Interventions and the Importance of Non-profit Associations |   |     |
| 9  | Psychocardiology and the Role of the Psychologist in Acquired and Congenital Heart Disease . . . . .   | 133 |
|   | Angelo Compare, Cristina Zarbo, and Annalisa Bonaiti  |     |
| 10   | Communication and Relational Aspects in Healthcare Professionals Caring for Pediatric and Adolescent Patients with Congenital Heart Disease and Their Families . . . . . | 147 |
|   | Maria Simonetta Spada, Lorenzo Galletti, Valentina Strappa, and Angelo Compare  |     |
| 11   | Art Therapy as a Psychological Intervention for Hospitalized Congenital Heart Disease Children . . . . .   | 161 |
|   | Emilia Quadri, Edward Callus, Elena Palmero, and Cristina Farè  |     |
| 12   | Peer-to-Peer Support for Congenital Heart Disease in Europe: ECHDO and ECHG . . . . .  | 177 |
|   | Torben Geier  |     |
| 13   | The Role of Associations in Congenital Heart Disease: Peer Counseling and Advocacy . . . . .   | 189 |
|   | Giovanna Campioni, Edward Callus, and Emilia Quadri   |     |