2.1	Establishing a Useful Frame on Pedagogy: The Core Principles of Learning	19
2.1.1	Core Principle 1: Motivational Strategies Are Incorporated into the Design of Learning Experiences	21
2.1.2	Core Principle 2: Learning Goals, Objectives and Proficiency Expectations Are Clearly Visible to Learners	32
2.1.3	Core Principle 3: Learners Prior Knowledge Is Activated and Connected to New Learning.	35
2.1.4	Core Principle 4: Content Is Organized Around Key Concepts and Principles that Are Fundamental to Understanding the Structure of a Subject	38
2.1.5	Core Principle 5: Good Thinking Promotes the Building of Understanding	43
2.1.6	Core Principle 6: Instructional Methods and Presentation Mediums Engage the Range of Human Senses	54
2.1.7	Core Principle 7: Learning Design Takes into Account the Working of Memory Systems	58
2.1.8	Core Principle 8: The Development of Expertise Requires Deliberate Practice.	64

2.1.9	Core Principle 9: A Psychological Climate Is Created Which Is Both Success-Orientated and Fun	68
2.1.10	Core Principle 10: Assessment Practices Are Integrated into the Learning Design to Promote Desired Learning Outcomes and Provide Quality Feedback	74
