5. Ethnic Differences in Skin Sensitivity and Responses to Topically Applied Products .....	53
Enzo Berardesca and Howard I. Maibach
Skin Permeability .....	53
Biophysical Parameters .....	54
Skin Disease and Cosmetic Problems .....	55
Effects of Topically Applied Products .....	56
Effects of Bleaching Agents and Exogenous Ochronosis .....	57
References .....	58
6. The Complex Problems of Sensitive Skin .....	61
Marie C. Marriott, David A. Basketter, and Karen J. Cooper
Introduction .....	61
Reactivity to Different Sensory Irritants .....	62
Objective Irritation .....	63
Relationship Between Sensory and Objective Irritation .....	63
References .....	64
7. Surface Stripping Techniques and Sensitive Skin .....	67
Marc Paye and Gérald E. Piérard
Introduction .....	67
Skin Surface Stripping Techniques .....	68
Skin Barrier Function, Sensitivity, and Squamometry .....	69
Skin Barrier Function, Sensitivity, and Corneocyte Size .....	70
Atopic Dermatitis and Corneometry .....	70
Corneometry to Differentiate Between Different Types of Sensitive Skin .....	70
Use of Squamometry to Select Surfactant-Based Products for Sensitive Skin Subjects .....	71
Use of Skin Surface Stripping Methods for Testing Barrier Protectants for Sensitive Skin Subjects .....	71
Conclusion .....	72

- 8. Technical Bases of Biophysical Instruments Used in Sensitive Skin Testing . . . . . 75
Maria Breternitz, Joachim W. Fluhr, and Enzo Berardesca
Introduction: What Is Sensitive Skin? . . . . 75
Assessment with Non-Invasive Biophysical Instruments . . . . 80
Summary . . . . 100
Names and Addresses of Mentioned Products . . . . 101
References . . . . 102
- 9. Identification of a Sensitive Skin Panel . . . . . 107
Marie C. Marriott, David A. Basketter, Karen J. Cooper, and Lisa Peters
Introduction . . . . 107
Definition of Sensitive Skin . . . . 108
Test Methods for Investigating Sensitive Skin . . . . 110
Problems Associated with Identifying a Sensitive Skin Panel . . . . 113
Conclusions . . . . 117
References . . . . 117
- 10. Sensitive Skin Symptoms as Risk Indicators for Hand Eczema 121
Päivikki Susitaival
Conclusions . . . . 125
References . . . . 126
- 11. Objectifying Primary and Acquired Sensitive Skin . . . . . 129
Sven Malte John
Primary and Secondary Sensitive Skin . . . . 129
Sodium Hydroxide for Skin Sensitivity Testing . . . . 130
